“During a time of great uncertainty, our faith in God grounds us and reminds us to have faith in each other. As the world faces growing inequality, violence and threats to our environment, we move forward with an unshakable belief in human potential. Each of our rightly ambitious goals supports the other. At the heart of these goals—and everything we do—is our dedication to upholding human dignity in pursuit of the common good. While continuing to steward an 80-year legacy of service to people who need us most, we believe that a better world is possible.” – CRS.org
